REMODELING AWARDS

SUBMISSION GUIDE

CELEBRATING EXCELLENCE.
RECOGNIZING TRANSFORMATION.

Four ways an award entry can strengthen your business, team, and marketing

Feedback

Gain constructive insights from experienced, impartial industry judges.

Brand Visibility

Use award recognition, project photos, and promotional materials to strengthen your company's reputation.

Public Recognition

Stand out from competitors and build homeowner confidence by showcasing award-winning work.

Team Recognition

Celebrate the NARI members, vendors, and project partners who contributed to the project's success.

Winning Strategy #1: Choose the Right Project to Enter

Not every project is award-worthy. Focus your time and budget on projects with the strongest story and photography.

Start with Award Potential

Approach every project as though it could become an award winner.

Choose Something Memorable

Look for unique design, creative solutions, or outstanding craftsmanship.

Tell the Story

Explain challenges your team overcame and why your solution was exceptional.

Document Everything

Capture before, during, and after photos throughout construction.

Winning Tip

Beautiful photos get attention. A compelling story about overcoming challenges is often what wins awards.

Winning Strategy #2: Capture Award-Worthy Photography

Strong photography helps judges understand the transformation, craftsmanship, and overall impact of your project.

Hire a Professional

Whenever possible, use an architectural or interiors photographer who understands lighting, composition, and accurate color.

Capture Consistent Views

Photograph the before and after conditions from the same angle whenever possible so judges can immediately see the transformation.

Prioritize Image Quality

Use sharp, high-resolution images with accurate lighting and color. Avoid blurry, dark, distorted, or heavily edited photos.

Stage the Space

Remove clutter, arrange furnishings, and add a few simple styling elements that complement the design without distracting from it.

Photography Tip

Capture progress photos throughout construction to document hidden conditions, obstacles, and the solutions your team developed.

Sharp • Well lit • True to color • Consistent angles • Professionally staged

Winning Strategy #4: Maximize Your Award-Winning Project

One award submission can generate months, or even years, of marketing content. Make the most of your success.

Don't assume the judges know what they're looking at.

Clearly explain why your design decisions, construction methods, and problem-solving approach made the project exceptional. The judges only know what you show and tell them.

Winning Strategy #3: Build an Entry That Judges Can Score

Remember: Judges can only evaluate what you show them. Make every section of your submission easy to understand and directly tied to the scoring criteria.

Know the Rules

- Read the program guide before you begin.
- Review eligibility, category requirements, and deadlines.
- Highlight important requirements.
- Use the official checklist before submitting.

Write for the Judges

- Answer the questions they are scoring.
- Don't simply describe the project.
- Instead explain:
 - What challenge existed?
 - Why was your solution unique?
 - How did your team overcome obstacles?

Keep the scoring criteria open while writing your submission.

If the judges award points for something, make sure you've clearly addressed it in your narrative.

Stay Organized

- Create one folder for each project.
- Include:
 - Before photos
 - Progress photos
 - Final photos
 - Floor plans (if applicable)
 - Supporting documents
 - Project narrative

Focus on the Client

- Explain how the remodel improved the homeowner's life.
- Instead of:
 - "Installed a larger kitchen."
- Write:
 - "The redesigned kitchen improved circulation, increased storage, and created an accessible workspace that allows multiple family members to cook together."
- Judges want outcomes, not just features.

Winning Strategy #4: Maximize Your Award-Winning Project

One award submission can generate months, or even years, of marketing content. Make the most of your success.

Promote Your Win

Update your:

- Website / Portfolio / Social media / Email signature / Company brochures / Sales presentations / Client proposals

Don't forget to announce your win with a press release and share it with your clients and partners.

Keep the Momentum Going

One award can open the door to many others.

- Consider submitting your project to:
 - NARI National RotY Awards
 - Chrysalis Awards
 - NKBA Design Competition
 - ASID Design Awards
 - Manufacturer & supplier awards
 - Regional remodeling competitions

Eligibility varies by program

Turn One Project Into Many Stories

Repurpose your award-winning project into:

- Case studies
- Blog articles
- Newsletter features
- Social media posts
- Client testimonials
- Speaking presentations
- Recruiting materials

Celebrate Your Team

Tag and thank:

- Designers
- Architects
- Trade partners
- Suppliers
- Manufacturers
- Photographers
- Homeowners (with permission)

An award isn't the finish line; it's the beginning of a powerful marketing campaign. A single award-winning project can continue attracting clients, referrals, and media attention long after the competition ends.

Submission Checklist

NARI Remodeler of the Year Awards Program Rules

Who can enter?

- The entrant organization needs to be a NARI member in good standing that had complete oversight and supervisory responsibilities for the work completed (see exceptions for the Architectural Design category).
- Entries are eligible if they have not been submitted in the same category in a prior NARI National Remodeler of the Year (RotY) awards contest and have a finish date range of December 1, 2024 – November 30, 2026. Dates may vary with chapter award programs.
- Team Members are other NARI member companies (other than the entrant organization) that worked on the project. There is an additional fee for each Team Member.
- Entries for new structures will not be accepted except in the Residential Detached Structure category.
- The same project may be entered into one category or in multiple categories with additional fees.

Presentation

- The presentation must be submitted in PDF format and can be up to 30 pages long. The file can be up to 20MB. This presentation is the only file the judges will see. We suggest using PowerPoint, Publisher, Word, InDesign, or similar program to build an entry, and then save it to a PDF file.
- The company name or any individual's name can't be in the presentation, or in the file name, or otherwise identify the member company or the client in any way. Before, in-progress and after photos are encouraged to help show the complexity of the process or the obstacles encountered.
- A project summary is required, 100 words or less, in addition to their presentation. This summary will be used to describe winning projects after winners are announced.

Photo Uploads

- Images and/or photos in the pdf presentation, or image upload section can't contain any recognizable individuals, logos, or any other identifying

Photo Uploads

- Images and/or photos in the pdf presentation, or image upload section can't contain any recognizable individuals, logos, or any other identifying information. Note, exception of Image Upload #3 for company logo.
- Any photo enhancement is limited to brightness, contrast, or sharpness. No items may be added or removed through photo enhancement techniques.
- Take "before" photographs before the start of every project. Take the "after" shots from the same angles as the before photos whenever possible.
- Project Costs: Include all fees; designer, subcontractor, project owner sweat equity, etc.
- Project Owner/Contractor and Photographer's Release forms: All forms must be completed for each entry to be eligible. Forms are available at nari.org/enter and during the entry process.
- All fees are non-refundable, non-transferable, and cannot be carried over to subsequent years.

The Judging Process

- Winners are selected by an impartial panel of judges who are experts from within the industry.
- The evaluation process is done without revealing company names. A Remodeler of the Year Award winner is an entry that demonstrates remodeling excellence. Entries are judged on functionality, problem-solving, aesthetics, craftsmanship, innovation, the degree of difficulty, and entry presentation. Judges reserve the right to disqualify, adjust the category, or deduct points if program rules are not followed. It's possible that no winner is selected in a particular category if NARI standards are not met. The decision of the judges is final.

Regional Judging - National Program Only

- Judges begin by individually reviewing all the entries in a category within a region. They do not collaborate or see each other's scores. Judges may ask questions of the project owner or contractor for clarification. Once a category within a region is completed, a regional score for each entry is obtained by averaging the judge's scores. The highest average score obtained, providing the project meets the minimum score needed, determines the regional winner for that category.

National Judging - National Program Only

- The judges will review each of the regional winners with the other judges who reviewed the same category to select a National Winner.
- Judges Scoring Criteria can be found at nari.org/enter

Entire House Under $250,000 ▾

A project, with a cost* under $250,000, that remodeled or renovated a substantial portion of the entire residential house, inside and outside, or where multiple additions and/or style changes in footprint or elevation have been made in more than one location. The entry must include a description of the portions of the existing structure that were incorporated into the finished project. Pictures and plans submitted with the entry must highlight those portions of the home retained in the new design.

*Cost is defined as contract price, all extras, change orders and the fair market value of materials and products that were purchased, sweat-equity and in-kind services provided, and/or any subcontract work. The cost of all homeowner provided products, services, or labor should be included in this cost. All mark-ups and profit should be included in the cost provided. For member-owned projects, costs should include normal mark-ups as if the project was contracted to an outside client.

Submission Checklist

Presentation Upload *

The presentation must be submitted in PDF format and can be up to 30 pages long. The file can be up to 20MB. We suggest using PowerPoint, Publisher, Word, or similar program to build your entry, and then save to a PDF file.

Be sure to include a project statement, drawings, images, and any descriptive text or captions that will help the judges understand the details of the transformation. 'Before' photos are required and are best used immediately preceding 'After' photos. Present photos from the same angle if possible. Don't include the company name or any individual's names in your presentation, or otherwise identify yourself or the client in any way. Don't use the entrant company name in the PDF file name. Don't use photos with people in them.

This presentation is the only file the judges will see. Do not include any identifying information in the presentation or file name. If you are entering the Residential Architectural Design Category and the project has been built, please do not include any built pictures in your presentation or your entry could be disqualified.

NARI National Remodeler of the Year Awards Program Rules

Who can enter?

- The entrant organization needs to be a NARI member in good standing that had complete oversight and supervisory responsibilities for the work completed (see exceptions for the Architectural Design category).
- Entries are eligible if they have not been submitted in the same category in the NARI National Remodeler of the Year (RotY) awards contest and have a finish date range of December 1, 2024 – November 30, 2026. Dates are subject to change.
- Team Members are other NARI member companies (other than the entrant) who contributed to the project.
- Entries for new structures will not be accepted except in the Residential category.
- The same project may be entered into one category or in multiple categories.

Presentation

- The presentation must be submitted in PDF format and can be viewed by judges will see. We suggest using PowerPoint, Publisher, Word, etc.
- The company name or any individual's name can't be in the presentation in any way. Before, in-progress and after photos are encouraged to be included.
- A project summary is required, 100 words or less, in addition to their project description. Winners are announced.

Photo Uploads

- Images and/or photos in the pdf presentation, or image upload section can't contain any recognizable individuals, logos, or any other identifying information. Note, exception of Image Upload #3 for company logo.
- Any photo enhancement is limited to brightness, contrast, or sharpness. No items may be added or removed through photo enhancement techniques.
- Take "before" photographs before the start of every project. Take the "after" shots from the same angles as the before photos whenever possible.
- Project Costs: Include all fees; designer, subcontractor, project owner sweat equity, etc.
- Project Owner/Contractor and Photographer's Release forms: All forms must be completed for each entry to be eligible. Forms are available at nari.org/enter and during the entry process.
- All fees are non-refundable, non-transferable, and cannot be carried over to subsequent years.

Submitted entries are final and cannot be modified. If an emergency arises, email office@narisv.org before the submission deadline to discuss possible options.

Please email office@narisv.org if you have any questions or would like to schedule a 1-1 session to help with any part of the submission process
